Fossil hunting on a buggy ride, Kyoto Prefecture

The northern Kansai area is dotted with plenty of unexplored areas which are steeped in millions of history. Long before civilization blossomed in this part of ancient Japan, the land was home to prehistoric life. Head to Kyotango – lovingly named 'Fossil by the Sea' – for a fossil-hunting experience like no other. Venture into a prehistoric canyon with your family to uncover 16 million-year-old giant fossils that are preserved in the area.

Shiro Kobbito Park, Hokkaido Prefecture

Combine your love of chocolates and cooking at Shiro Kobbito Park, where you and your kids can try your hands at making one of Hokkaido's most famous sweets! The Shiro Kobbito cooking course is popular with adults and children alike. After you've shaped, rolled and decorated your own cookie dough, it'll be baked on the spot so you'll have your very own handmade sweet to take home. While waiting for the cookies to bake, you can sample some desserts at Chocolate Lounge Galford.

Tuna farming experience, Wakayama Prefecture

Tuna lovers will find a unique fish feeding experience in Kushimoto, the first place in the world to successfully raise tuna in farm. Observe in awe as hundreds of fresh Pacific bluefin tuna – at 3m, they can weigh up to 200kg! – swim around the large enclosure as you hand-feed them fish cakes from the safety of a boat. After the feeding session, conclude the experience with a tea-tasting of some tasty tuna back on land!
